THE NATIVE COURTWORKER AND COUNSELLING ASSOCIATION OF BRITISH COLUMBIA (NCCABC)

Is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Darryl Shackelly to the position of Executive Director of the NCCABC effective June 12, 2021.

For the past 15 months Mr. Shackelly has been the Acting Executive Director. During his tenure as Acting E.D., Mr. Shackelly has impressed the Board of Directors with his leadership, his commitment to improving the lives of Indigenous people, his commitment to the future of the NCCABC and his knowledge of Justice issues.

Mr. Shackelly will, as of September 2021, have been with the NCCABC for 25 years. During that time he has served as Native Courtworker (Vancouver), Provincial Trainer, Regional Manager and Director of Court Services in addition to other positions.

The NCCABC is confident that Mr. Shackelly's experience with and knowledge of the NCCABC and, most importantly, Indigenous people, will serve the association and our clients well. We are confident that Mr. Shackelly brings a focused context to this important position. The NCCABC board is excited and looking forward to working with Mr. Shackelly who is bringing to the NCCABC an experienced but fresh approach to our work, programs and initiatives.
